

WISER EMPLOYEES MAKE HEALTHIER DECISIONS

When choosing medical care, do your employees know the wisest options?

- Only 12% of employees are health literate.
- Health-illiterate people spend 80% more than their health-literate counterparts.

Our entertaining and educational guizzes teach employees how to make healthier decisions and wiser healthcare choices.

Our quiz content covers everything from Angina to Zicam—chronic diseases, high-cost diagnostics, opioid awareness, unnecessary procedures, nutrition, and more. We discourage wasteful care that drives cost and may cause harm. Quiz customizations include options to educate employees on plan design, transparency tools, and other benefits. Learn more at www.quizzify.com.

The first ingredient in a Clif Bar is "organic brown rice syrup." Which of the following statements are accurate?

- 1. This is an excellent way to naturally sweeten an energy bar without added unhealthy sugar.
- 2. This is the most creative way to list sugar as a first ingredient that we have ever seen.
- 3. Since brown rice has more fiber than white rice, this ingredient is good for your digestion, which offsets any health harms.
- 4. Because it's organic, the anti-oxidants aren't destroyed in the processing.
- 5. This ingredient shows the company's dedication to wholesome goodness and their customers' health.

HMS Partnership

Educational content is reviewed by Harvard Medical School physicians. We are the only wellness program to bear the seal of one of the top medical institutions in the world.

We never ask for or disclose private health information and strongly adhere to the Employee Health Program Code of Conduct.

Outcomes, Guaranteed

It's simple: health-literate employees reduce medical costs. We even offer a Validation Institute-certified 100% Savings Guarantee.

EEOC Indemnification

Implementing Quizzify can indemnify your entire wellness program against potential employee lawsuits once the EEOC "safe harbor" sunsets in December.

Comprehensive Data

Admins can view employee participation and performance data in real-time.

High Participation

Gamified, educational quizzes keep employees engaged and coming back for more.

Seamless Implementation

We can get you up and running quickly and painlessly. No stress, no fuss.

"Tired of the eat-more-vegetables-do-more-sit-ups approach to (trying to) reduce medical costs?... Imagine if employees could be comfortable turning down medical care that they do not need." - Employee Benefit News

Featured in:

